The Medicine Wheel is a stepping stone of power that will allow you to connect with all the energies of the universe. - Sun Bear _ALL_ energy?!! And I think I actually _buy_ this stuff ... In reparation: ... I kept this book (among 10 others) next to my bed for about 20 years. I come back to him regularly. A unique approach to astrology. I suggest everyone read this whether they're in astrology or not! This book gives you information about yourself as well as others and how to build successful relationships with everyone. It's a fun, little, valuable astrological book. Is for beginners though. His not many philosophies, but mostly descriptions of signs of archetypes from a more native American perspective. Burçlar için değişik bir yaklaşım I read this much, more than just this time. I love reading this to my friends on their birthdays This was a wonderful shot for astrology. Well written and organized in a book. Native Americans have found their inspiration in the midst of nature. They associated literally everything with the traits of other living things, including birth symbols. This AstrologyBay article consists of 12 Native American astrological signs and their meanings. These signs are nothing more than animal totems, each of which identifies with the traits of people born under them. You're working your way through life in step with your animal colleague. You two are dancing a pattern that's eausing your life experience. And although you will have more than just one animal alliance, these biological animals are always available to share wisdom and help with your evolutionary growth in this life. - Avia Venefica Native American tribes share a spiritual connection with nature, in the sense that nature plays a key role in deciphering the cosmos consisting of highly enigmatic elements in it. Algonquin's attitude, your date of birth is the first drum beat of the fantastic ceremonial dance of life, just shows how Native Americans associate life with celebration, fame and respect for everything that breathes, whether it's a man or an animal. They looked at flora and fauna, their strengths, weaknesses and asked them for the power to perform difficult tasks. For example, since the bat has the ability to see clearly in the dark, they (Native Americans) invoked its spirit to gain the power to clearly see their prey during the hunt in the night. When it comes to astrology, animal totem is assigned to those born within a specific Period. It is believed that these people share the characteristics of the animal symbol under which they were born. The following section explains these zodiac animals, along with their Western interpretation and meaning. Find out what your biological animal is! An overview of various Native American horoscopic animal symbols like Western astrology. Native American astrology also has 12 animal totems. In its astrological map, one year is divided into four important parts (or clans), north wind (winter), east wind (spring), south wind (summer) and westerly wind (autumn). Each clan consists of three zodiac animals. The following chart will give you a quick overview of the months and dates that share these characters, and will also tell you about your animal totem by date of birth. Otter (January 20 to February 18) Element: Air/Western Zodiac: Aquarius =Color(s): SilverStone/Mineral: Silver or Turquoise: Unconventional, Independent, FriendlyCompatible With: Deer, Raven, Falcon Otter is an unconventional creature that behaves differently from next of kin, weasels. The characteristics of those born under this symbol are quite similar to this totem. They are very creative, friendly, independent and tend to look at life in a way that others rarely understand. They are intuitive beings and tend to look beyond what can meet the eye. They are not afraid to experiment and by nature they are very funny. That's why a lot of people can take them to be stupid or silly, only to realize that their eccentricity got them on the right track. Otters can be great friends and societies, and they will always pay attention to the needs of their friends with sensitivity and undivided attention. However, on the other hand, they can become somewhat rebellious, unscrupulous and detached from society, especially if their perception outside the box fails to be compatible with others. The detachment gives them the kind of freedom they crave when it comes to living on their own terms. Vuk (19th century) February 20 to March 20) Element: Air and Water/Western Zodiac: Pisces XColor(s): Blue-green stone/Mineral: Turquoise or jade traits: Sensitive, intuitive, generously compatible with: bear, woodpecker, snake Although we all tend to see a wolf as this lonely, dangerous and deadly creature, native Americans see it as a generous and caring creature. Those who belong to this clan are very sensitive to their environment, like a wolf. Any positive or negative energy will affect them, which is why they are likely to get lost in the joy or adversity of others. The wolf is also a hunter who is strongly attached to his pack. Similarly, carriers of this animal totem tend to hunt for spiritual fulfillment and meaning of life. They belong to their pack, and the loss of any member, or their permanent lover, can prove devastating to them. Wolves will sacrifice themselves to meet your needs. Their tenderness and generosity will make life a nice trip! However, if suffer from emotional blow, which they often do, these people can become extremely vigilant, resistant to change or authority and impractical. They need someone to keep their head up and their behavior composed during turbulent times, otherwise they can become very vicious and wild. Falcon (21 March to 19 April) Would you like to write for us? Well, we're looking for good writers who want to spread the word. Contact us and we'll talk... We work together! Element: Fire/Western Zodiac: Aries YColor(s): Yellow, GreenStone/Mineral: OpalTraits: Powerful, Spontaneous, Sapient Compatible With: Salmon, Oed Falcon Is Considered a Fearless Leader in Native American Astrology. This creature is powerful, you would eyes and not afraid of the turbulent winds of life. What makes members of this clan born leaders is their ability to clearly look through the haziness of the situation. They can weigh the pros and cons of any venture and are very effective when it comes to getting a clear chance at their cause. They're tenacious, stubborn and confident. They won't hesitate to start anything that feels right to them. They are perfect role models for other signs that are indecisive and have doubts about their judgment. They are also the ones who instill passion and fire in the environment. On the negative side, falcons are sometimes quite self-conscious, and who could blame them, because they are gifted in this area. Also, if they fail to find a positive environment in which their actions are appreciated, these people tend to become very impatient, rude, adamant and overly sensitive, which may not prove fruitful in the long run, especially when it comes to their personal relationships. Beaver (April 20 to 20 May) Element: Fire and Air/Western Zodiac: Bull ŸColor(s): Yellow, BlueStone/Mineral: Jasper, HematiteTraits: Practical, valuable, reliable compatible with: goose, woodpecker, bear It is amazing how very strategic the beaver is when it comes to digging underground tunnels and structures to create a safer haven for itself, free from the difficulties and troubles of the outside world. Those who belong to this sign also believe in acquiring material property in order to live a comfortable life, without misery and limitations. Which is why, they tend to use their heads while making decisions. They tend to go with already established norms, and are not quite risk takers. They are great providers, ensuring that their loved ones have all their materialistic and emotional needs met. They are also very useful and loyal to those they love. Beavers, on the other hand, have a tricky side. Although they rise high in their ambitions, they can become quite authoritative, for which he sometimes got into trouble. Also, they tend to become overly cowardly, nervous and desperate if they tend to control a particular situation. It's also not easy for them to let go, for which they can be quite bitter and Deer (May 21 to June 20) Element: Fire and Earth/Western Zodiac: Gemini IIColor(s): Yellow, BlueStone/Mineral: AgateTraits: Moody, Intelligent, Conversationalist Compatible with: Raven, Otter Deer is an enchanting one that attracts everyone's attention. It is admirable for its appearance, sharp senses and fastness. You will hardly find this creature as stable in one place as it is always on the move, just like a member of this clan. Those born under this symbol are very curious in nature, which forces them to constantly move from one place to another. They are also very special about their appearance and tend to be well-groomed. Since they are quite sharp and intelligent, they can engage practically anyone in a big conversation, which makes them great hosts. They are constantly looking for stimulation and excitement in life, which makes them very moody and fickle. Although they are amazing friends, giving their humor and vibrancy to the lives of others, on the other hand, they can become quite lazy, selfish, impatient, demanding and undefined. Since the equivalent of a Western zodiac symbol, Gemini, these people can show their duplicitous personality very often due to their constant mood swings. Woodpecker (from 21 October to 31 October 2017) June 21 to July 21) Element: Water/Western Zodiac: Cancer ☾Color(s): PinkStone/Mineral: Carnelian, Rose QuartzTraits: Protective, sensitive, supportive compatible with: Snake, Wolf, Beaver Woodpeckers are known to provide the perfect nest for their offspring consisting of everything and everything they need to thrive. So are the members of this clan. They are very protective and supportive, acting as much-needed listeners who empathize and understand with love and patience. They are completely dedicated to their loved ones and without exception will shower them with all their love and care. However, sometimes they can be overprotective and jealous. Yes, although woodpeckers are the most supportive and romantic of all other zodiacs, their very sensitive nature can also make a successful environment quite sugming up. It's best to be with them when their situation is well secure. A defeated or unsuccessful woodpecker is likely to peck into your life without realizing its limits. Negative qualities that can be shown in these times include possessiveness, anger, resentment and jealousy. Salmon (Jul 22 to August 21) Element: Fire and Aquatic Grass Zodiac: Leo ♀Color(s): RedStone/Mineral: CarnelianTraits: Proud, energetic, confident compatible with: Owl, falcon American natives take inspiration from salmon in many ways, and one of them is the difficult journey it needs over a lifetime to find the perfect place to reproduce. It is known that those who carry this totem have the characteristics of salmon to be very determined, focused and enthusiastic about their goals and ambitions. Their willpower is inseparable, as is their power to influence others. These clan members will easily challenge the spirit of others and make them part of quests in life. They are also very creative and friendly in nature, and always find the kind of moral backup that they need in their lives. In a good environment they can be quite generous, helpful and loving. However, these people also possess negative traits of egocentric, obstetric and dishonest as needed by others. In such situations, it is natural for others to lose faith in those who belong to this sign, which in turn ultimately harms the ego of salmon. Brown Bear (August 22 to September 21) Element: Water and Earth/Western Zodiac: Virgo ♀Color(s): Brown, Purple Stone/Mineral: Topaz Characteristics: Practical, Modest, Obedient Compatible With: Goose, Beaver Bear is viewed by native tribes as a creature that is methodical, intuitive and leveled. This ability of bears makes clan members great mentors, especially when it comes to making others listen to the voice of reason. The practical and modest behavior of these people makes them great confidantes because they are always able to understand and decipher important details of a coiled situation. They are also very generous and give to those they love and take care of. They have a big-hearted attitude, a patient and an intellectual and an inquisitive mind. They have great analytical abilities which makes them great advisors. On the other hand, bears tend to be lazy from time to time. They can also be quite introverted and skeptical, which can prevent their curiosity towards their surroundings from being explored. A negative experience in life can force them to remain reticent of mainstream society, where they live secluded in bitterness. Raven (22 September to 22 October) Element: Earth and Air/Western Zodiac: Libra ♀Color(s): Brown, BlueStone/Mineral: JasperTraits: Peaceful, friendly, diplomatically compatible with: Oetro, Deer Ravens are known for their balance of the extremities of the two sides. Native Americans believed that this bird began its life as a white bird. However, as he grew, some wrong actions and victims changed its color from white to black. So this totem is also a symbol of our external, as well as the inner self.

Those born under this clan are peaceful beings striving for harmony and unity in the environment. They often act as wise old men of the group, to which others look up to opinions and advice. They are good at avoiding and resolving conflicts, which is why they share good conditions with almost everyone. On the other hand their personality, their diplomacy may seem unattractive to many. Also, an otherwise relaxed and charming raven can, in difficult situations, become quite spiteful, rough, demanding and inconsistent in nature. Snake (October 23 to November 22) Element: Water and EarthWestern Zodiac: Scorpio ♏,Color(s): Violet, OrangeStone/Mineral: Amethyst Traits: Impulsive, secretive, spiritually compatible with: Woodpecker, Wolf snakes may be one of the scariest-yet-mysterious animals among all, and the same mystery has been observed in the born this clan. If you carefully observe the snake, its ability to be present around us without any visible sign, shows the mysterious nature of this reptile. Also, his ability to rejuvenate at regular intervals is what makes clan members excellent healers, whether on a physical, spiritual, or emotional level. These people can be quite challenging to understand, which is why, they can always be suspicious of their real intentions. They are spiritual beings, which means that they always find themselves connected to the ethereal elements of this world. If they have a positive view of others, these individuals can be extremely loving, caring and supporting the needs of others. Mess with them, and you will get their powerful and deadly attacks, because they can be very vigilant, violent and emotionally unstable in their actions. Owl (November 23 to December 21) Element: Earth and FireWestern Zodiac: Sagittarius ♐,Color(s): Gold, BlackStone/Mineral: Obsidian Traits: Adventurous, Broadminded, Independent compatible with: Falcon, Salmon Owl admires many of its unique qualities, including its natural ability to look clear in the dark. This is why individuals belonging to this clan have the potential to acquire immense wisdom and philosophical enlightenment in life. They are great listeners and are very good at giving advice when it comes to life and its meaning. It is interesting to note that the members of this clan are quite similar and unlike their animal totem. This is because they are party animals, very sociable and departing in nature, especially when it comes to dating at night. On the other hand, these individuals can become absolutely overindulgent, cunning, and diabolical, if under the influence of negativity. They can become extremely selfish and will not pay attention to anything related to morality or ethics when it comes to meeting their shallow and focused goals. Goose (22 December to 19 January) Element: Earth and AirWestern Zodiac: Capricorn ♑,Color(s): White, SilverStone/Mineral: Quartz, Peridot Characteristics: Reliable, Ambitious, Methodically Compatible With: Beaver, Bear, Raven Goose admires for its ambition and reliability. These birds are also very methodical in their way of life. Have you ever noticed how they travel in a group? They fly in a V-shaped formation, where the strongest female among the groups is the leader, followed by the second strongest, third strongest and the like. This strategy is advantageous when it comes to breaking the wind and clearing the way for others behind. The V-shaped formation also helps geese flying behind to see their way clear. What is the reason why, the carrier of this totem are fully geared towards achieving their goals and always succeed at all costs, due to the strategic and methodical approach in life. It is said, if you need to do something, the goose will do it safely. These people make great business leaders and are known for their practicality and seriousness, when it comes to work. To their family and loved ones, they can be very generous and kind, ensuring that they provide their loved ones with all resources, whether tangible or intangible. Although they are perfect in every way, the other side of their character is that in a hostile environment these people can live in the darkness of their inner self. Also, since these people are very ambitious, it is likely that when they are in a rut, they can lose their emotional side and lead a very practical and mechanical life. Native Americans loved animals. They believed that animals were messengers of superior power that governs the world, and it is precisely by observing and communicating with them that the secrets of the world can evolve and unlock. We don't really know why only these 12 animals were chosen as astrological symbols of birth, what we know for sure is that they did an impeccable job of reaching these animals among many and social human behavior with their traits. If you summarize all this carefully, the characteristics of us humans and animals are not so different after all! All!
